WELCOME TO THE CORGI SEPTEMBER TO DECEMBER 2022 RANGE!

AS THE YEAR BEGINS TO DRAW TO A CLOSE, we're excited to present the final selection of Corgi product announcements and arrivals for 2022. Chief among these is the impending release of our cover star, the Triumph Scrambler 1200 as seen in the most recent James Bond film, 'No Time To Die'. Made in close collaboration with the team at Triumph Motorcycles, this new model heralds the arrival of an exciting new chapter for Corgi as the first in a line of 1:12 scale die-cast motorcycles. Featuring incredible detail and premium packaging, we are utterly thrilled with the result and can't wait to get the model into your hands.

This selection of announcements also features more pre-orders for some of our brand new tooling projects revealed earlier this year. In Aviation Archive, we have the new Supermarine Spitfire MkIX. This model arrives in suitably celebratory mood with a pair of beer barrels strapped beneath the wings, replicating a near mythic machine flown by the legendary fighter ace Johnnie Johnson. The rest of the Aviation range is bolstered by the debut of a new era collection –

'WWII: War Under the Sun.' Featuring aircraft that fought in the Mediterranean and Middle East theatre during the Second World War, we're delighted to release these products in a brand new packaging style.

In Vanguard's, our new tooled Ford Cortina Mk5 is due to arrive in stock in the coming months, and we're pleased to open pre-orders for another new tool item we've announced earlier this year – the Ford Focus Mk3 RS. Featuring some innovative new techniques in the tooling, this is an exciting new direction for the Vanguard's range.

We have been hard at work at new products for 2023 for the past few months as well, and are looking forward to bringing you details on those next year. Be sure to check out the Die-Cast Diaries blog at corgi.co.uk for all the latest updates on our latest arrivals and ongoing development progress, where recent blog entries have included the first look at the 1:48 Harrier II and Ford Ranger Raptor projects. In addition, be sure to follow our social media channels where we have been debuting some 'live' video unboxings of the latest product samples on the day they arrive with us at Corgi HQ!

THE AVIATION ARCHIVE

The Aviation Archive range features high quality die-cast aircraft models produced in both 1:72 and 1:48 scales. Newly designed packaging styles highlight each model's place in real-world history, enabling collectors both new and old to easily identify areas of interest while expressing the sheer span and scope of the aviation world. Each aircraft comes with a display stand and many have optional parts enabling the model to be posed either in flight or stationary with the undercarriage down.

With the arrival of our newly tooled Supermarine Spitfire MkIX in this collection of announcements, the Aviation Archive range continues to go from strength to strength. Work continues apace on bringing the Spitfire's T9 stable mate to completion in the new year, alongside our impressive new 1:48 scale Harrier II. Joining an ever-growing range of display worthy jets in the larger scale, the Eurofighter Typhoon is also due for arrival soon. Plus, we are already hard at work on the next round of new tooling items in the Aviation Archive range that we will announce in 2023!
